Peaceful Lodging

Loon Lake Research and Education Centre is a year round destination located in picturesque University of British Columbia's Malcolm Knapp Research Forest. The Centre has a long tradition of providing an area for forestry and environmental education as well as outdoor recreation. Today many groups take advantage of this stunning setting for retreats, workshops and other events that are enhanced by the secluded setting.

Experience any one of our signature log cabins like the Staff House and Alumni Cabin or choose to stay in our newly constructed state-of-the-art, Walter C. Koerner Forestry Centre, offering all the amenities your guests would expect. All facilities offer cozy fireplaces, lake views and forest settings – they are truly an extension of the natural surroundings.

Exceptional Meeting Space

Where Business Meets Nature.

Koerner Centre – the natural choice for business retreats. Whether you are planning a sales seminar, workshop, or special event, we're committed to every last detail. Loon Lake staff make your job as easy as possible ensuring guests will be taken care of with the utmost professionalism.

Conference Room – an idyllic setting for focused sessions. Enjoy 1,300 square feet of well-appointed meeting space with additional break-out areas, an abundance of natural lighting, wireless high-speed internet access and audio-visual equipment.

Refresh your group with this amazing venue.

Delicious Dining

Imagine spectacular lodgings and delicious meals. You can have it all! Loon Lake's talented dining room staff are renowned for creating sumptuous meals. The culinary offerings are one of the main reasons guests keep coming back. All dining areas offer friendly atmospheres where you can enjoy the company of colleagues, friends or family.

If you have rest and relaxation on your mind there are a number of places to retreat to. Enjoy the company of others in the great room or meander down to the lake where you can experience the mystical call of the Loon.

Your group will love the mouthwatering meals and wilderness setting.
